■ UM HISTORIAN OFFERS INSIGHT ON PRESIDENTIAL RACE -- Harry Fritz, chair of The University of Montana—Missoula's history department and a former state senator, teaches a course on the 1996 presidential election and is available to comment on the Clinton-Dole race. The popular class focuses on the process of electing a president as well as the twists and turns of the current campaign. The course, offered every presidential election year, gives students the opportunity to study all aspects of the process, from campaign finance to television images. Fritz will be available election day, Nov. 5, to comment on the election as the returns come in. He can be reached Tuesday evening at home, (406) 549-6712; his office number is (406) 243-2993.
